

BLOOMING BLOSSOMS

Mural for the Maternity Ward in Lincoln Medical Center
in The Bronx

About the project:

On the 8th of March of 2022, as part of the celebrations of Women's month. Mexican artist Arantxa X. Rodríguez (AXR) unveiled "Blooming Blossoms," a hand-painted mural at the OBGYN ward at Lincoln Medical Center in the Bronx. This mural was made possible thanks to a City Artist Corps grant from the City of New York that she received last October 2021.

"Blooming Blossoms" adorns the walls in the maternity ward and brings light and color to the section of the hospital where life is born. This mural, designed to spread positivity throughout the space, expresses how atoms, cells, and tissue assimilate to form our universe and the world as we know it.

"Blooming Blossoms" is her second mural at this hospital; the first one, "The formation of abundance," decorates the electrical escalators of the first floor.

Unveiling:

Process:

Mandala Workshop:

COME CELEBRATE HISPANIC
HERITAGE
2021

COLORING
MANDALA WORKSHOP

Join us for the coloring event
as part of the new mural
"Geometric Blossoms" for the birth unit (5th fl) by artist AXR.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14TH, 2021.
3-7 P.M.
LINCOLN GREATLAWN / COURTYARD

NYC HEALTH+HOSPITALS | Lincoln | NYFA New York Foundation for the Arts | NYC Cultural Affairs | THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Click here to read an article from Untapped NY with the story of this mural:

ARTS & CULTURE EVENTS NEW YORK

ARTIST ARANTXA X. RODRIGUEZ ON PAINTING MURALS AT LINCOLN HOSPITAL IN THE BRONX

